

Both Sides Can Only Speak Past One Another In A Field Of Such Misunderstanding that a lost object can continue to exist in the mind an absolute inability to look at the circumstances directly now that they have been placed under erasure three or four motorcycle cops the logics that we are embedded in, and cannot choose the too easy separation of the world a bored culture living in the shadowland solidarity a unique and probably temporary phenomenon not primarily described in the context of mourning the fine details become political matters a code word list similar in principle to one already in use more demoralizing than the abstract precisely because it occupies imaginary territory of symbolic exchange without a coherent conception of itself save as the expression of an impulse to vengeance they'd barricaded such a vast area that they couldn't really guard it all morning had closely resembled just now waking up what happened here, this leap from security a group of tourists walked by with a map, passing cigarettes walking on, the feeling broken, denied so this is how it's going to be we have variously schooled ourselves for a reason, for years objection is not a habit but an analysis democracy is something that people learn to do

I cannot dissociate history from symbol I do not admit a need to seek revenge nor salute like instances this is not the whole story
